

Set your leaders for success ...right from the start!

Keynotes

For

Team-Building, Leadership, and Innovation

Let Pam customize a presentation to fire up your next management conference or executive retreat!

Make Your Strongest Start: Uncover the mysteries of success during those first, critical months of leadership. Customized for your experienced executives, mid-career leaders, or new managers.

Drive Value from Difference: Discover research-based secrets for making the most of diversity in your organization's skill set, gender, remote locations/virtual offices, and personality (may include Myers-Briggs®).

Engage Your New Leaders...Right from the Start: Geared toward your business unit heads and HR business partners, Pam gives insights and practical tools to help onboard your newest leaders and succeed.

Brain-Savvy Leadership: Show your executives and high-potentials how to apply the latest findings in neuroscience to maximize their individual performance, and become more effective and productive leaders.

BOOK PAM TODAY!

www.ideashape.com

speak@ideashape.com

call 408-245-2600

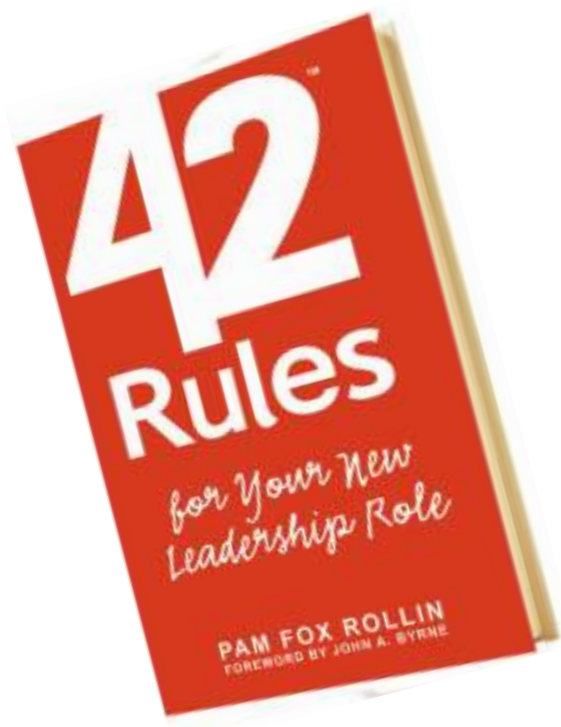

“Pam approached the whole project with a consultative, curious, and dedicated style that made us feel good right from the start. Her delivery is fun and high energy, highly interactive, and deeply insightful. I plan on working with her again.”

- Patrick Crane, CMO (former), LinkedIn

Pam Fox Rollin

executive coach, speaker, consultant

Praised by executives as “the essential pocket guide to navigating those critical first few months,” Pam’s new book, “42 Rules for Your New Leadership Role: The Manual They Didn’t Hand You When You Made VP, Director, or Manager” reached #1 in Training & Coaching on Amazon.

“When I mentor leaders who want to advance, I offer the guidance you’ll find in this book: Be bold in seeing opportunities and tackling tough issues, build your visibility strategically, and take responsibility for your own development. I’ve heard Pam speak on this, and she gives you the real scoop.”

- Genevieve Haldeman
VP, Corporate Communications, Symantec

Pam Fox Rollin shows inexhaustible enthusiasm for helping top performers become great leaders. Silicon Valley executives value Pam as a dynamic speaker and thought-partner in driving business results. She specializes in coaching Chief Marketing Officers and others who need to be strategic, creative, and influential.

Since founding IdeaShape in 1999, Pam’s clients have included Accenture, Blue Shield of California, Charles Schwab, eBay, LinkedIn, Genentech/Roche, Zoll, and many mid-size companies in technology, professional services, and healthcare. In addition to speaking and consulting, Pam served as a Guest Fellow in Leadership and Master Coach for Stanford University’s Graduate School of Business, where she earlier earned her MBA. A Myers-Briggs Master Practitioner®, Pam is internationally recognized for her expertise in using personality type with leaders.

Pam began her own leadership path by guiding healthcare and financial executives through major strategic change with Accenture Strategic Services and Bain & Company. After twenty years of strategy consulting and executive coaching, Pam remains inspired by the reciprocal flow of ideas between herself and the leaders she addresses, and she’s thrilled to know she is helping them achieve their goals even faster.

BOOK PAM TODAY!
speak@ideashape.com

start smart
shape the future
make differences productive
executive coaching
workshops
facilitation
keynotes
mbti
offsites

ideashape)